

The FOTR Trail Boss, Del Albright

The fearless leader of the FOTR is none other than the infamous Del Albright, Master Bushman, guide, four-wheeler, and outdoor writer.

With over 20 years in the land use and access business, and with literally hundreds of publication credits to his name, Del Albright is one of the most known and respected names in the country when it comes to keeping our trails and lands open. He is a full-time Four-Wheeling Ambassador for the Blue Ribbon Coalition, and the State Environmental affairs Coordinator for the California Association of Four Wheel Drive Clubs.. (just to name a few titles).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

40 years of outdoor recreation experience.
20 years of outdoor writing & photography
26 years Fire Service (Retired CDF)
6 Years Active Duty Military (Green Beret)
B.S. Forestry, M.A. Environmental Planning
Outdoor Writers Association of California (OWAC)
2001 CA4WDC Outstanding Project (Rubicon Trail)

Folks also helping with FOTR efforts

www.bfgoodrichtires.com
www.rockytrail.com
www.roundeyes.com

Rocky Trail™
Outfitters

Our FOTR Sponsors Need Our Support

One of the messages we deliver is to support the folks who support us. They deserve our business. Before you buy a part that has to do with your recreational motorized piece of equipment (whether that be 4WD, ATV, snowmobile, buggy or dirt bike), find out if folks you're going to buy from support our sports. Are they members of organizations? Are they supplying goodies to raffles? Are they involved in keeping our trails and lands open? If not, don't buy from them and let them know why you're taking your business elsewhere. But if we don't give the good guys our business, then how can we expect them to keep helping us work for access. These folks are doing more than their part to sponsor our work.

Off-Road Business Association

Pirate4x4.Com

You're invited to join the

Help us keep the Rubicon Trail
the crown jewel of four wheeling.
www.delalbright.com

